

Tahaylia Higgins

tayhiggins14@gmail.com | <https://th-uxportfolio.vercel.app/> | Alpharetta, GA, USA

EDUCATION

|                                                                                                                             |                                    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Arizona State UniversityBachelor of Science in Graphic Information Technology, Full-Stack Web Development | Tempe, AZMarch 2020 – May 2024 |
| GoogleUX Design Professional Certificate                                                                  | RemoteAug. 2024                |

EXPERIENCE

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| User Experience Design InternNooon                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | May 2025 – July 2025Remote |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Redesigned the website, creating Figma prototypes, wireframes, and UX copy to improve usability and user flow.</li><li>Led full rebranding, including logo, typography, and color palette to elevate the company's visual identity and online presence.</li><li>Conducted stakeholder interviews and collaborated with developers and sales teams to enhance engagement and conversion.</li><li>Built and maintained the website in WordPress (Elementor, Blocksy), ensuring responsiveness, mobile optimization, and usability.</li><li>Participated in Agile 1-week sprints (Jira) to iterate designs based on team and stakeholder feedback to improve usability and functionality.</li></ul> |                                       |

PROJECTS

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------|
| FundFlow   B2B SaaS Loan Management Web App                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Nov. 2024 – Dec. 2024 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Conducted interviews with small business owners and synthesized insights to guide team design decisions.</li><li>Collaborated with a 4-person UX team to create user personas and journey maps.</li><li>Designed high-fidelity wireframes and interactive prototypes for the Dashboard and Financial Tools pages in Figma.</li><li>Developed style guide including logo, typography, and color palette for consistent visual identity.</li><li>Iterated interface elements with the team to improve usability based on feedback.</li></ul> |                       |
| XpensePal   B2C Personal Finance Mobile App                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Aug. 2024             |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Designed end-to-end mobile app prototype for Gen Y and Z, covering research, wireframes, and high-fidelity prototypes.</li><li>Conducted surveys, interviews, and secondary research to understand financial habits and pain points.</li><li>Built features for expense tracking, savings goals, debt repayment, and a rewards system to drive engagement.</li><li>Created style guide with accessible colors, typography, and branded visuals.</li></ul>                                                                                  |                       |
| Craigslist   Redesign E-commerce Marketplace                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | May 2024              |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Created user personas from team research to identify sign-in issues and guide design decisions.</li><li>Mapped user flow to structure the redesigned onboarding experience.</li><li>Designed low- and mid-fidelity wireframes to improve clarity and personalization in the sign-in flow.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                       |

SKILLS

UX Methods and Research: User interviews, surveys, competitive analysis, personas, user flows, wireframes, usability testing, heuristic evaluation

Design and Prototyping Tools: Figma, FigJam, Adobe Creative Suite, Canva

Collaboration and Productivity: Google Workspace, Zoom, Slack, Jira

Web and Front-End: HTML/CSS, JavaScript, WordPress

Accessibility and Inclusive Design: WCAG-compliant design